EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This report will provide an overview of the digital marketing presence of Cow and the Moon Gelato Bar, and analyse the publicly available data to offer specific recommendations for the brand to enhance its marketing performance.

Cow and the Moon is a family-run gelato shop located in Sydney and Wollongong famous for their award-winning and high-quality artisan gelato which attracts several gelato enthusiasts and tourists visiting Australia.

This report will start with the introduction of the marketing background and context, the objectives and scope of the report, some key findings from the collected data with an overview of the recommendations, followed by the digital data including SWOT and PEST analysis, Social Intelligence, Social and Web Analytics, Social Media Auditing, and the analysis of the brands' competitors in the area such as C9 Chocolate and Gelato, Dolce Dessert Bar, and Wendy's Milk Bar. All these data will be accompanied by some strategic insights to support the later generation of recommendations to enhance Cow and the Moon's digital presence, audience engagement, and brand digital recognition.

Cow and the Moon should invest in paid advertising to reduce their reliance on organic traffic and gain detailed insights into ad performance, which will aid in making informed marketing decisions. Improving the website's user experience is crucial for attracting and retaining visitors, leading to higher engagement and revenue. Additionally, leveraging AI and expanding keyword strategies will enhance productivity, efficiency, and search engine visibility, driving more traffic and improving overall marketing effectiveness.

INTRODUCTION

01 BACKGROUND AND CONTEXT

The Ice Cream Stores in Australia Industry is gradually recovering from the COVID-19 pandemic with a revenue of 411.2 million in 2023 (IBISWorld 2023). Notably, there is a growing trend of premiumisation and health consciousness, which creates an advantage for Cow and the Moon as customers are searching for high-value products like gelato (IBISWorld 2023).

Regarding the shop's digital presence, Cow and the Moon maintains accounts on Facebook, Instagram, and TikTok. Among these, Instagram stands out as the most active and interactive platform, characterized by frequent postings and high levels of customer engagement. Conversely, TikTok, despite its popularity as a platform for short-form content, remains the least invested in by Cow and the Moon, exhibiting low engagement and minimal content.

02 OBJECTIVES AND SCOPE

The purpose of this report is to analyse a range of digital marketing data to provide actionable recommendations for Cow and the Moon to improve their engagement on social media, optimize their digital marketing strategies, and differentiate from their competitors in the area. The data analysed in this report include SWOT and PEST analysis of the digital environment, social intelligence data, social and web analytics, social media auditing, and competitors analysis. Recommendations derived from investigating digital data will help Cow and the Moon address the problem of low engagement, lack of strategy, and limited online visibility.

03 KEY FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

The report looks into the digital marketing performance of Cow and the Moon and compares it to the performance of its competitors to support providing some recommendations such as investing in paid advertising, improving website experience, leveraging AI, developing content marketing and Search Engine Optimisation (SEO).

SWOT ANALYSIS

STRENGTH	WEAKNESS
• High organic web traffic indicates effective search engine optimization (SEO) practices. • The use of specific and relevant keywords (e.g., "cow and moon" and "cow moon Enmore") helps attract a targeted audience through search engines. • Large amounts of positive customer comments on social media indicate good brand recognition and customer loyalty. • High-quality visual content on Instagram with most content being gelato pictures.	• Limited online visibility: Not frequently active on social media with a low number of post per month. • Lack of strategy in posting on social media. • Minimal Interaction with Followers as they rarely respond to comments, which might make the brand seem less accessible or engaged with its audience. • Limited budget on digital marketing, dependence on organic reach. • Limited page views per Session with an average of 1.2 page views per session, suggesting that visitors may not be exploring the site extensively, potentially due to a lack of engaging or compelling content.
OPPORTUNITIES	THREATS
• Can emerge in trending digital channels like Tiktok. • Access to many digital tools to improve their online presence. • Collaboration opportunity with influencers and local advertisers. • Introducing more varied content such as behind-the-scenes videos, customer testimonials, and user-generated content. • Improving responsiveness to comments and queries on social media could foster a stronger community and increase customer loyalty.	• Large competitive landscape in Wollongong. • With many brands competing for attention on the same digital platforms, it may become increasingly difficult to stand out and maintain audience interest over time. • Fail to catch up to rapid technological advances. • Negative reviews and feedback. • The current low engagement on social media and the website could lead to decreased brand visibility and customer interest over time, especially if competitors are more active and engaging.

Table 1. SWOT Analysis

SWOT ANALYSIS

Strategic Insights

- Cow and the Moon can strategically leverage the power of TikTok, an emerging social media platform renowned for its short-form videos and engaging content. Since its inception in 2017, TikTok has rapidly become a dominant player among short-form video social apps, amassing over a billion global users and gaining significant popularity among the younger generation (Zhang, 2023). By actively participating on this platform and creating content that highlights its unique flavours and product quality, Cow and the Moon can enhance its visibility and significantly increase customer engagement.
- Cow and the Moon should consider investing in influencer marketing, which has become a critical component of brand engagement (Hazan et al., 2022). Influencers have a substantial impact on consumer preferences and purchasing decisions by showcasing potential experiences associated with the brand's products. With 31% of social media users discovering new products through influencers (Santora 2024), this approach can significantly enhance the brand's online visibility and attract a broader customer base through targeted social media campaigns.
- Developing consistent, timely and relevant posting strategies is the most effective approach to maintaining customer engagement on social media, which requires dedicated efforts and consistency of the brand (Knopf 2024). Specialists advised that brands should develop a comprehensive content calendar and adhere to it strictly to increase digital consumers engagement (Knopf 2024).

PEST ANALYSIS

Political factors	• Data regulation: Must comply to Privacy Act 1988. Marketers need to ensure compliance, which can affect data collection and marketing campaigns. • Policies in Advertising: Australia Protection Law prohibits misleading and deceptive advertising practises. Advertisements must not create a false impression about the product or service.
Economic Factors	• Post-COVID-19 Economic Recovery: As businesses recover, there's a growing investment in digital marketing to reach customers online, offering opportunities for marketers. • Cost of Living and Inflation: continues to ease over the past year with softening activity and a gradual rise in the unemployment rate. Moreover, the rising costs of living can impact consumer spending pattern, leading to adjustments in digital messages and pricing strategies.
Social Factors	• Reference Groups: Relying on social media and word-of-mouth recommendations. Gen Z might be more engaged on platforms like TikTok, Snapchat and Instagram, while older generations might prefer Facebook. • Consumer Preferences: There is a health-conscious movement, resulting in a more selective demand for high-sugar products, and lactose alternative products. • Preferences over Online Shopping: Consumers shifting to online shopping for convenience requires business to improve their digital presence and customer experience.
Technological Factors	• Mobile Payment Integration - Applepay, Uber Eats, online ordering, online payments. To adapt to this change, markets should optimised mobiles apps and mobile marketing campaigns to reach more customers. • Regulatory Changes in Data Privacy and Digital Advertising. • Advancements in AI and Analytics. • 3rd party data analytics: Public/ Professional account for data insight and data analytics.

PEST ANALYSIS

Strategic Insight

- Cow and the Moon can utilize Artificial Intelligence (AI) to optimize their digital marketing strategies by developing more personalized and relevant marketing campaigns, enhancing the customer experience, and driving growth and revenue (Chetan, 2023). As the digital landscape continues to evolve, AI will serve as a critical driver of success for businesses of all sizes (Chetan, 2023).
- Focusing on the health-conscious benefits of Cow and the Moon's gelato can effectively meet the rising demand for healthier food options and align with evolving consumer spending trends. By showcasing the natural ingredients, reduced sugar content, and high quality of their gelato, Cow and the Moon can appeal to health-conscious buyers, set themselves apart from competitors, and support premium pricing.

SOCIAL INTELLIGENCE

The Social Intelligence data include Sentiment Analysis, Social Listening, and Netnography data collected from Cow and the Moon social media in the last two years. These data will provide valuable insights of customers preferences and engagements with the brand, which can be used to optimise marketing strategies.

SENTIMENT ANALYSIS

Sentiment of Instagram

Sentiment of Facebook

Sentiment of Google Reviews

An analysis of the comments and engagements on Cow and the Moon's primary social media platforms, Instagram and Facebook, reveals a predominantly positive sentiment. Most of the feedback consists of compliments regarding their gelato and services. The majority of interactions are favourable, with a small proportion of neutral comments, typically involving tagging or inquiries. Notably, there are no negative comments observed on these two social media.

Negative reviews on Google primarily focus on the pricing of Cow and the Moon's products. Customers often express concerns about the higher prices compared to competitors, attributing this to the brand's emphasis on quality. Despite these complaints, the majority of reviews are positive, highlighting satisfaction with the products offered.

SOCIAL INTELLIGENCE

The Social Intelligence data include Sentiment Analysis, Social Listening, and Netnography data collected from Cow and the Moon social media in the last two years. These data will provide valuable insights of customers preferences and engagements with the brand, which can be used to optimise marketing strategies.

SOCIAL LISTENING

Table 3. Social Listening

Who is your audience?	• Young adults from 18 - 30 • Families with kids from 5-12 • Dessert enthusiasts who enjoy premium gelato and artisan treats. • Sweet teeth.
What does your audience like?	• Visually appealing, high-quality product images, particularly those showcasing new and unique flavors of gelato. • Content that highlights the artisanal and handcrafted nature of the products. • Behind-the-scenes glimpses into the production process.
How does your audience engage and interact with your brand? (Facebook and Instagram)	The audience engages mainly through likes, shares, and comments on posts, particularly those featuring new flavours or limited-time offers. However, engagement through comments is currently not maximized, as the brand rarely responds. There is potential for increased interaction through responding to comments and encouraging user-generated content.  <table border="1"> <caption>Categorisation of Social Media Comments</caption> <thead> <tr> <th>Category</th> <th>Percentage</th> </tr> </thead> <tbody> <tr> <td>Product Quality</td> <td>35%</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Customer Review</td> <td>30%</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Customer Experience</td> <td>25%</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Product Pricing</td> <td>10%</td> </tr> </tbody> </table>	Category	Percentage	Product Quality	35%	Customer Review	30%	Customer Experience	25%	Product Pricing	10%

The Social Intelligence data include Sentiment Analysis, Social Listening, and Netnography data collected from Cow and the Moon social media in the last two years. These data will provide valuable insights of customers preferences and engagements with the brand, which can be used to optimise marketing strategies.

NETNOGRAPHY

Typical digital behaviour of people in the community	• Engagement with visual content. • Sharing photos and stories of their visit. • Commenting on their favourite flavours • Participating in polls and contests. • Interest in Behind-the-Scenes Content.
Trending topics in the community	• Seasonal and limited-edition flavours. • Health and ingredients. • User-generated content. • Special events and promotions. • Sustainability and ethical practices

Table 4. Netnography

Strategic Insights

- Customer engagement peaks with the introduction of new, seasonal, or limited-edition flavours. This trend highlights a strong preference for fresh and diverse options among consumers.
- There is an increasing interest in healthy, natural, and locally sourced ingredients. This emphasizes the need for clear and transparent communication about product content to meet customer expectations.
- User-generated content (UGC) is viewed as more authentic and reliable than brand-created content. This perception significantly impacts purchasing decisions, as customers trust feedback from real users.

SOCIAL & WEB ANALYTICS

The Social and Web analytics data are collected from Semrush and SimilarWeb to understand the web traffic of Cow and the Moon, which indicates the effectiveness of digital marketing campaigns of the brand.

Key Analytics	Cow and the Moon
Web Traffic organic	8.6K
Bounce rates	83.78%
Time on Page	7s
Pageviews per session	1.2
Keywords	cow and moon, cow and the moon, cow moon, cow and moon enmore
Backlinks	388
Referring domains	218
Total visit last month	5765
Traffic Cost ($)	0

SOCIAL & WEB ANALYTICS

- Cow and the Moon's website attracts 8.6K organic visitors, indicating a moderate level of visibility in search engines.
- The bounce rate of 83.78% suggests that the majority of visitors leave the site quickly, with the average time on the page being roughly 7 seconds and pageviews per session being 1.2, indicating that the content on the website is not compelling enough to retain visitors or there is little interactivity for visitors to explore. These numbers suggest that the websites have low use engagement, which needs to be improved.
- The keywords of Cow and the Moon are mainly their brand's name and their locations, which indicates brand-focused organic traffic.
- The website of Cow and the Moon appears to have a considerable amount of backlinks and referring domains, which are 888 and 218 respectively, indicating a positive sign for search engine authority.
- The zero-cost traffic metric implies there is no paid search campaigns are used, indicating a reliance on organic reach.

Strategic Insights

- Integration of paid advertising campaigns may incur significant costs, however, research indicates that a strategic and data-driven approach can lead to substantial improvements in profitability, customer engagement and brand awareness (Almestarihi 2023)
- Website Interactivity can impact the User Experience: Research demonstrates that websites with higher levels of interactivity significantly influence users' preferences, with interactive sites being favoured over less interactive ones (Al-Shamaileh & Sutcliffe 2012).

SOCIAL MEDIA AUDIT

The following social media audit data has been collected from Cow and the Moon's two most active social media platforms, Facebook and Instagram. While the brand maintains a TikTok account, it is currently inactive.

	Cow and the Moon
How many Likes does the competitor have per site?	An average of 135.94 likes per post
How often do they post on each site? Is it appropriate?	Roughly, they post average three posts in a month
What is their push/pull mix? Is it appropriate?	For pull strategies, they have content marketing like promoting their products, organic social media posts (BTS), and reposting tagged stories... For push strategies, they don't have visible push strategies like sales or promo codes.
What type of media do they use? Is it appropriate?	Photos, Videos, Campaigns
Does the social site link to the website?	Yes. Link in Bio
Do they respond to comments? To what degree?	Mostly no. To make the channel more interesting and engaging, they can invest more time in communicating with the customers.
What is the digital media voice? Is it appropriate?	Modern communication style, quiet constant aesthetic tone of product pictures.
What type of content is usually posted? Is it appropriate for the brand?	The primary posts feature product images, which is appropriate given the inability to convey taste online. However, incorporating videos of people reviewing and describing the taste could enhance engagement.

SOCIAL MEDIA AUDIT

The following social media audit data has been collected from Cow and the Moon's two most active social media platforms, Facebook and Instagram. While the brand maintains a TikTok account, it is currently inactive.

- The brand posts around three times each month. This low frequency may be inadequate for maintaining a steady online presence and keeping the audience engaged.
- The brand successfully employs pull strategies by using content marketing, organic social media posts, and sharing tagged stories. This method is effective in enhancing brand visibility and fostering community engagement.
- There appears to be a shortage of push strategies, such as promotional deals or discount codes. Introducing more push tactics could help boost direct sales and attract new customers.
- The brand rarely responds to comments, missing opportunities to interact with its followers and strengthen relationships. Increasing response rates could improve customer satisfaction and create a more connected community.

Strategic Insights:

- Implement a balanced Push and Pull Marketing Strategy to optimise the performance of the digital marketing campaigns by incorporating more push marketing tactics such as promotions, and discounts. Keeping a balance between push and pull strategies will be the most beneficial to the brand.
- User-generated content (UGC) campaigns are effective in generating significant social media impact with minimal costs, demonstrating that organizations value customer feedback. UGC enhances a brand's authenticity and credibility, as consumers perceive it to be more genuine and honest than brand-generated content. UGC has been a longstanding strategy for brands to build relationships in the digital space, increase visibility, and foster social connections. (Agarwal 2020)
- Content marketing plays a vital role in distinguishing a brand from its competitors, as it allows marketers to craft unique messages that resonate with their target audience (Champaneri & Jain 2021).

COMPETITOR ANALYSIS

This section includes competitor analysis of social media audit, web analytics, and SWOT analysis of Cow and the Moon and its three competitors: C9 Chocolate and Gelato, Dolce Dessert Bar, and Wendy's Milk Bar. To see the full analysis, see the Appendix.

- Cow and the Moon Gelato is a family-owned gelato shop celebrated for its artisan gelato flavours, which has won multiple awards and gained popularity in Sydney.
- C9 Chocolate and Gelato offers a fusion of handcrafted chocolate and gelato, known for its unique flavour combinations and high-quality ingredients.
- Wendy's Milk Bar is a nostalgic brand offering a range of milkshakes, ice cream, and hot dogs, maintaining a long-standing presence in the Australian dessert market.
- Dolce Dessert Bar is a contemporary dessert destination renowned for its diverse selection of cakes, pastries, and gelato, attracting a wide audience with its creative offerings.

SWOT Analysis Takeaways:

- C9 Chocolate and Gelato and Dolce Dessert Bar have a competitive advantage of effective consistent posting on their social media while this is a weakness for Cow and the Moon.
- Dolce Dessert Bar has the lowest online visibility with no account on Facebook and TikTok while its competitors do. However, all brands still need to improve their digital presence on TikTok as it is the lowest engagement platform.
- All brands face shared opportunities and threats, therefore, Cow and the Moon should target one of the opportunities and reduce potential threats sooner than its competitors.

Social Media Audit Takeaways:

- C9 Chocolate and Gelato has the highest number of Instagram followers, significantly outpacing the other stores, while Wendy's Milk Bar leads in Facebook likes by a wide margin.
- Cow and the Moon maintains a moderate presence on both platforms, with a noticeable number of Instagram followers and Facebook likes.
- Cow and the Moon have the highest number of likes per post, indicating good customer engagement and loyalty, despite not having the highest follows or likes on social media.
- Wendy's Milk Bar focuses more on Facebook, with a minimal presence on Instagram.

Web Analytics Takeaways:

- Wendy's Milk Bar stands out as the leader in organic web traffic, with 11.2K visits, indicating high visibility and a strong online presence. This is likely supported by their significant backlink profile of 23.8K, which suggests a robust strategy for online visibility.
- Cow and the Moon struggles with user engagement, with an extremely low average time on page (7 seconds) and a high bounce rate (83.78%). This suggests that visitors are not finding what they are looking for or that the landing experience is poor.
- Cow and the Moon has a good number of backlinks (388) compared to C9 and Dolce, which have fewer. This might suggest more limited outreach or less successful link-building campaigns for C9 and Dolce.

=> Wendy's Milk Bar stands out across various metrics, showing robust online visibility, high user engagement, and effective SEO strategies. In contrast, Cow and the Moon and C9 Chocolate and Gelato have a moderate online presence but could improve by focusing more on engagement tactics and expanding their keyword strategies. Dolce Dessert Bar, with the lowest traffic and engagement figures, has considerable potential to enhance its online presence and marketing approach.

- The success of any digital marketing strategy is highly reliant on the user experience provided by the website being marketed. A website that is user-friendly, well-structured, and optimized for mobile devices can significantly enhance user engagement, increase conversion rates, and ultimately contribute to the overall effectiveness of digital marketing initiatives (Sharma 2023).
- As companies strive to enhance their online presence, search engine optimization (SEO) plays a vital role in improving the visibility and ranking of their online content on search engines. Given that users tend to search using relevant keywords rather than specific company names, Cow and the Moon need to secure top positions in search engine results to ensure their offerings are easily discoverable (Matta et al. 2020).

RECOMMENDATIONS

The recommendations aim to enhance the digital marketing strategy, boost engagement and customer satisfaction, and establish differentiation from competitors. These recommendations are based on insights derived from the analysis of various data sources presented in the report.

- Invest in Paid Advertising: The analysis indicates that Cow and the Moon currently do not engage in paid online advertising, resulting in a heavy dependence on organic traffic. To enhance their marketing strategy, the brand should consider investing in paid advertising. Paid advertising enables detailed tracking of ad performance, including visitor information, advertising costs, and purchase behaviour. This data allows for precise measurement of effectiveness and return on investment, facilitating more informed and strategic marketing decisions (Blake et al. 2015).
- Improve Website Experience: Cow and the Moon should focus on enhancing their website experience and content to attract more visitors and improve both visibility and customer engagement. A website that is user-friendly, easy to navigate, and offers a positive user experience is more likely to attract and retain visitors, leading to increased engagement, higher conversion rates, and ultimately, greater revenue (Sharma 2023).
- Leverage Artificial Intelligence (AI): The integration of AI into digital marketing strategies offers significant advantages, enhancing productivity, efficiency, and profitability for Cow and the Moon (Nair & Gupta 2021). AI-powered digital marketing is transforming how organizations create content, generate leads, lower customer acquisition costs, manage customer experiences, recruit employees, and engage consumers on social media (van Esch & Stewart Black 2021).
- Develop Strategic Content Marketing: Effective marketing relies heavily on high-quality content. Content marketing is integral to digital marketing strategies, including SEO, social media marketing, SEM, and inbound marketing (Champaneri & Jain 2021). Cow and the Moon should invest more in developing interesting and valuable content to retain visitors on their website or social media.
- Expand Keywords and Search Engine Optimisation: SEO tools play a crucial role in increasing website traffic, which can subsequently lead to higher sales and revenue (Matta et al. 2020). Currently, Cow and the Moon primarily employs branded keywords. To enhance engagement and improve visibility, it is recommended that the brand expands its keyword strategy to include terms such as "best gelato in Wollongong" or "gelato contest winner." This broader keyword approach will help attract a wider audience and improve search engine rankings.

CONCLUSION

This report offers a detailed analysis of Cow and the Moon Gelato Bar's digital marketing strategies, drawing from publicly accessible data. It also presents tailored suggestions to improve marketing effectiveness. Known for its top-notch artisan gelato in Sydney and Wollongong, Cow and the Moon draws a large following of gelato enthusiasts and tourists.

To further elevate their digital presence, the report outlines strategic steps. By investing in paid advertising, the brand can reduce reliance on organic traffic and gain valuable performance insights. Enhancing the website's user experience will attract and retain more visitors, leading to increased engagement and revenue. Additionally, incorporating AI into marketing tactics and expanding keyword usage will enhance productivity, efficiency, and search engine visibility. Implementing these recommendations will greatly boost Cow and the Moon's online visibility, improve audience engagement, and solidify brand recognition in a competitive market.
